

THE NEUME
1947

the Senior Class 1947

NEUME

published for the Student Body and Faculty of the
New England Conservatory of Music
Boston, Massachusetts

Foreword

With the publication of the 1947 Neume, I am hoping to establish a policy whereby the Neume will no longer be composed exclusively by the Senior Class.

Each class has contributed memories and experiences which have affected the student body as a whole.

It is my wish that the gathering of the material contained herein will serve as everlasting memories to the entire student body as well as the graduating class.

Cordially,

Matthew G. Mazur,

Editor-in-Chief.

"Sir, you are music's master."

Shakespeare

Dedication to

FRANCIS FINDLAY

To you, Mr. Francis Findlay, we dedicate this yearbook in recognition and appreciation of the knowledge, experience and guidance you have given us, and of your untiring efforts to instill in us high standards of ethics and musicianship.

Senior Class, 1947.

DIRECTOR

With faith and high hopes that this Senior Class will recognize that the art of fine teaching includes the ability to plant the spark of inspiration which will ignite a future generation to high achievement.

Harrison Keller.

IN MEMORIAM

Charles F. Dennee
1863 - 1946

Richard E. Stevens
1878 - 1946

Clifton J. Furness
1898 - 1946

The lives of Clifton Furness, Charles Dennee, and Richard Stevens were ones of steadfastness of purpose and lofty ideals. Their genial dispositions and sincerity of character won for each of them an enviable place in the hearts of the students and their fellow teachers.

"To whom a thousand memories call."

—Tennyson.

The following New England Conservatory Graduates and former students made the supreme sacrifice in World War II:

Lawrence R. Blethen
Alfred L. Clapp
William J. DeFazi

Roger Kiley
Luther Oerheim
John H. Reardon, Jr.

Peter B. Saltonstall

"Life's race well run,
Life's work well done,
Life's victory won."

—John Mill.

80th Anniversary

1867-1947

The New England Conservatory of Music was founded in Boston by Eben Tourjee on February 18, 1867, and incorporated in 1870. It first occupied studies in the Boston Music Hall, the center of the orchestral activity of the city, and the home of the Great Organ. Under Dr. Tourjee's direction the school prospered, so that in 1882, the St. James Hotel in Franklin Square was acquired to provide more teaching facilities.

Upon the death of Dr. Tourjee in 1890, the directorship was assumed by Carl Faelten who in turn was succeeded in 1897 by George W. Chadwick. It was under Mr. Chadwick's direction that the conservatory broadened its musical curriculum and again need for more space was evident. Construction was begun, and in September of the year 1902, the conservatory moved to its present location on Huntington Avenue and Gainsboro Street.

In 1925, the conservatory was granted authority to confer the degree Bachelor of Music, and eight years later, the degree Master of Music. The demands of a collegiate curriculum necessitated the construction of an addition to the conservatory building in 1928.

When George Chadwick resigned in 1930, he was succeeded by Wallace Goodrich who had been Dean of the Faculty since 1907. In 1942, Mr. Goodrich retired and was replaced by Quincy Porter. He resigned in 1946, and Harrison Keller was appointed Acting Director.

We, the graduating class, are grateful for the knowledge and inspiration imparted to us by the faculty and administration.

Class Will

Be it remembered that We, the graduating class of June 1947 at the New England Conservatory of Music of Boston in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind and memory, but knowing the uncertainty of this life, do make this our last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us at any time heretofore made.

After the payment of our debts and funeral charges, we bequeath and devise as follows:

TO THE CLASS OF 1948: — Patience, courage and determination to fulfill their ambitions.

TO THE ENTERING FRESHMEN: — A revised harmony course whereby all students will receive instruction in the same material at the same time in order that they may enter the examination room with confidence regardless of who made out the exam.

TO MR. SMITH: — A real dummy, differing slightly from the variety which he teaches, upon which he may give way to his anger, pleasure and sorrow.

TO MR. KELLER: — We feel that there is no need to bequeath anything, as our absence will surely meet the purpose.

TO MR. FINDLAY: — A supply of Vienna-made batons which his student conductors will soon help deplete.

TO MR. SOROSINA: — Permission to smoke in his room after class and a ouija board to assist in marking his borderline students.

TO THE STUDENT COUNCIL: — A host of committees to tide them over the coming year.

TO MR. COOK: — A stool attached to the piano in 310 so that he can sit down while playing, no matter how large the contemporary music class may become.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEUME 1947: — An orchid to take home to his wife as a token of our appreciation for her long hours over a hot typewriter.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEUME 1948: — We will an eight-month supply of aspirin and sleeping tablets.

We appoint Jimmy, the janitor, and Charlie, the cafeteria manager, executors of this, our last will and testament.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seal, this 17th day of June in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-seven.

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the said Graduating Class of June 1947 as their last will and testament in the presence of us.

EDUCATION IS NECESSARY?

Sula Mekelatos, renowned author of "Results of Education", has taken as her basic material the careers of her former classmates of the New England Conservatory of Music of Boston, Massachusetts. As a preview to her book, Miss Mekelatos reveals the outstanding "accomplishments" of the Graduating Class of 1947???

MAZUR SUED

It was announced today that Matthew Mazur of Waltham, Mass. and President of A. F. M. has been summoned to the Supreme Court of the United States to answer charges of sending the major radio networks of the country into bankruptcy.

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC PERFORMED

A unique performance was observed at Carnegie Hall by a capacity audience, both of whom enjoyed it thoroughly. The program consisted of the premier performance of Albert Tepper's horn quintet as played by Miss Catherine Ameer of Bridgeport, Conn.

A STEP AHEAD

As Columbia University opens its doors for a new year, it was announced that Miss Jean Sullivan of Melrose, Mass., has registered and will be working for her Doctor's Degree. In a statement to our reporter, Miss Sullivan said: "I don't see how I'm ever going to do it."

ALTAMARI STRICKEN

Miss Amelia Altamari, leading social figure of Kingston, New York; President of the Ladies Aid Society; Vice-President of the S. P. C. A. (Society for prevention of cruelty to animals); Secretary of the Woman's Knitting Association; Treasurer of D. A. R.; and also Chairman of the P. T. A., has been confined to her home by a nervous breakdown.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM

Mr. Walter Nickerson of Medford, Mass., has been recently appointed director of the Music Department of the Emerson Nursery School, located in the western part of the state. Mr. and Mrs. Nickerson are having considerable difficulty in hiring a bus to transport the family to the new location.

APPOINTMENT

The President of M. I. T. has announced the appointment of Mr. Robert Cyr of Taunton, Mass., as director of the Physics Department.

MERIT OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

A promotion was in order yesterday at the meeting of the Frederic Flute Corporation for their super salesman, Faust Fiore. When asked as to how he is so successful, Mr. Fiore answered that he owes it all to the "Twiss" technique on which he concentrated while at the Conservatory.

BOSTON LOSES DRUMMER

Mr. Lawrence White of this town has announced that he has signed a ten-year contract as tympanist with the Southwest Pacific Symphony, and his assistants are Terry Hickey and Dorinne Alger.

ALL THAT GLITTERS IS NOT SILVA!

Mr. Richard F. Silva of Plymouth, Mass., has recently been appointed director of musical therapy at the Angier Animal Hospital, Newton, Mass.

TWO BEATS OR NOT TWO BEATS

Mr. David D. Hicks is to be one of the principal speakers at the annual M.E.N.C. This year his purpose will be to convince public school supervisors that there are two beats in a 6/8 measure.

BALLET RUSSE

Miss Helen Lucas has opened a new dance studio specializing in the study of the Russian Troika.

UNUSUAL COMBINATION

Critics are raving about the recital last evening by Cleo Williams, assisted with Bassoon obligato by Peter Cerullo.

EDUCATION IS NECESSARY? Cont'd.

QUARTET HEARD AGAIN

The fourth in the Series of Chamber music concerts was presented last evening and for the fourth time we heard the String Quartet by Mrs. Phyllis Hoffman. The public evidently finds this work fascinating.

COMING EVENTS

The recitals of the accomplished pianists, Takouhi Chorbajian on December 16 and Charlotte Goodman on January 17, are being preceded by a large advance sale of tickets.

SENSATIONAL

The Club 400 announces the opening next week of an engagement of nationally known King of the Jazz Piano, the one and only Stanley Kirton.

SENSATIONAL BARGAIN!

Mr. Chellis Carville of Dover, N. H., announces the opening of his auto-motor repair shop. The first twenty-five customers will be awarded free trombone lessons.

ATTENTION HEP-CATS

Miss Helen Behrens, world renowned interpreter of the "3 B's"—Barrel-House, Boogie Woggie and Blues, performed last evening at at Town Hall. Miss Behrens has made an intense study of this contemporary music.

NOT FUSSY!

A new studio has been opened by Miss Dorothy Havener, teacher of piano in Bangor, Maine. Miss Havener will take all pupils from ages five to sixty.

DIETZ SQUATS

Mr. Roger Dietz has been elected

President of the "Squatters' Club" of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass.

MASTER AT WORK

Mr. Edmund Aluisy has announced the opening of his school of instrumentation, which will specialize in the advanced principles of orchestration.

GREAT CONTRIBUTION

Mr. Raymond Fleck has recently organized instruction in percussion after thirteen arduous years of concentration in this field.

REPORTS ON N. M. E. C.

Miss Julyanne Hartwell of Littleton, Mass., has recently returned from the National Music Educators Convention, where she carried out her duties as Vice-President in charge of pitch-pipes. Miss Hartwell was honored for her excellent work in this field.

SAILING

Amongst the passengers sailing for Europe on the Queen Mary was Bill Mahan of Pawtucket, R. I. Mr. Mahan hopes to continue his research in the field of Hypnotism.

FOR JITTERBUGS ONLY

One of the more prominent dance studios of the South is that of Miss Jean Robinson, who specializes in the teaching of the Ultra Modern Ballroom Technique.

UNIQUE PERFORMANCE

Another in the series of concerts by the New York Philharmonic was presented yesterday afternoon with Miss Marilyn Olson and Dick Webber playing the "Itchy" Violin Concerto for strings. This composition was quite catchy and their execution of the work was outstanding.

SOMETHING NEW

Miss Mary Seaver has opened up a new studio in the cellar of her home for the intricate study of violin technique. Miss Seaver finds the surroundings quite inspiring.

EXPERIMENTAL RESEARCH

Miss Dorothy Elkind of this town has been busily engaged in her laboratory studying the psychological reactions of white mice to her flute playing.

FUN FOR ALL

An evening of square dancing was enjoyed by hundreds last evening at the Grange Hall. The music for the dancing was provided by Mr. Frank Pizzuto and his hay-rack five.

WELCOME BACK

The renowned Piano Duo of the Forties, Miss Jeannette Kaufman and Miss Barbara Swartzman have announced their return to the concert stage after an absence of several years. They will present a concert this week at Recital Hall, Boston, Mass.

SERVICES AT ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL

The Christmas music at St. Patrick's Cathedral for the ensuing holiday will be under the direction of the Reverend Russell Davis, assisted by Sister Agnes Lucie at the organ.

COME ONE, COME ALL

Junior Class

The lethargy having been shaken out of them by the expeditious leadership of Dean Holmes, the Junior Class was able to elect a board of efficient officers early in the year, and thereby get a good start on preparations for its Street Carnival. With a motto of "Quality, not quantity," President Saunders led his brave committees through the many trials and tribulations encountered in such a gigantic undertaking. We are eternally grateful to the cooperation of the faculty members who told fortunes, drew cartoons, and raked in the "mazuma" at the pitch games. We also have nothing but thanks and awe for those females who donned beards and undonned fans for the sake of "the Cause" (the Junior Class bankroll). Not to be outdone by any other class functions of the year, this happy conglomeration also included dancing, refreshments, a Stage Show, Side Show, and All Show shapely cigarette girls. To balance the extravagantly colorful performances of all the participants, the decoration committee (which included EVERYONE in the Junior Class) clothed Banquet Hall in bright hues. The Midway presented a blaze of color to the excited mobs who wandered about trying their luck and enjoying the many beauties unfolded before their eyes (the booths — that is).

Having successfully organized and carried out this function, we the Junior Class now wish to rest on our laurels, and prepare ourselves for our job next year as Seniors. You, the Senior Class of this year, have done your job well in upholding this institution and projecting your best to add to its standards. The Junior Class wishes the very best for each of you in ascending to the height of your ideals and ambitions. May each graduate direct his efforts to promoting happiness and harmony in the world through the great channel of music.

FROSH BOSH

Ostensibly this article was requested by the "Neume" to improve that publication's quality, add literary prestige, and sell copies. The first two reasons are self-evident; the last doubtful.

We have great respect for George Sand, O. Henry, George Eliot and other writers of preciousness who wrote under a nom de plume. Not to be outdone by anyone, Guy and I or Frank and I (whichever way you look at us) have assumed pseudonyms. I (Frank) am writing under the pen name of Frank Crewdson.

Now that we have you in a daze similar to the one that the representative Freshmen (whom we plan to immortalize in this article) was in during his first few weeks in school, we pass to the main body of our labor.

The Freshman class is large, talented, enthusiastic, and best typified by our representative frosh who had this to say when offered a ticket to a Boston Symphony concert: "Oh! no thank you — I have already seen the orchestra."

To follow such a fellow through his myriad meanderings about our school is an impossible job. To make a verbal picture of his confusion while waiting to be registered defies literature. Any poor attempts at describing his unfair consternation toward the overworked administration during those early and dreadful days would seem ludicrous in print. Anyway, you all know how he felt — unimportant, defenseless, and for some unlucky ones homeless. This last condition was actually imposed on the poor lad his first night in Boston.

After traveling 24 hours in a day coach of a miserable train, he arrived rumpled and disgruntled in Boston at 10:00 P. M. and detrained at the Huntington Avenue Station. Since he was tired and since he was a man, the bright sign "Irvington Rooms for Men," which leered menacingly down upon the dirtiest train station in the world, caught his fancy. He made for it. The manager said that the rooms were all taken, and as the lad left, crippled by the weight of his bag, he heard the clerk warn, "accommodations scarce — V. F. W. Convention, ya'know." Three hours and forty phone calls later he sagged and sat down on his suitcase, thoroughly exhausted and reasonably sure that his piano teacher back home wasn't so bad after all. He slept in the "Ladies' Parlor" of the Hemenway Hotel.

The next morning he had breakfast at Hayes Bickford's. From his table he could see the Conservatory. There it sits — across the street — fortress-like in its frightening immobility. Within its portals are gay, carefree, happy-go-lucky students of music; not a care creases their brows, no worry interferes with their devil-may-care attitude. Youth, zest and ambition spur them on to accomplishment and success. These are truly God's chosen few — these are scholars of the New England Conservatory, for whom all life is a song.

Let us make a short tour of this bit of Paradise, sequestered as it is from the toils of the workaday world by St. Botolph and Gainsboro Streets, Huntington Avenue, and the "Y."

Open the front door — it opens easily — (here, let me help you). Life is all ease, you see. Now, up these marble steps. Ah! What a magnificent statue! That is Beethoven. —No, BEETHOVEN. B-e-e-t-h-o-v-e-n. I don't KNOW why, but that's the way you pronounce it. Now, then, we are in the foyer. All these charming people are Conservatory Students. Oh, their pleasant existence just spells contentment all over their faces! — You don't see their faces? Well, that's because they are studying manuscripts. That's what they write music on. People rarely DO see their faces, they study so conscientiously. We turn to the left here. That's the Dean's office. He gives everyone diplomas. And this is the Treasurer's office — he holds a helping hand out to students who need that kind of helping hand. No, he never pulls his hand back. And here is the Registrar's office. This is where such terms as "Standing In Line," and "Registration," and "Practise Rooms" originated. Fable has it that Students used to stand in line — three or four deep, I hear tell — to register. I don't suppose they stood VERY long. They did? Well, perhaps they were served coffee and doughnuts while they waited. PERHAPS,

Founded in 1903, SIGMA ALPHA IOTA is a national professional music fraternity for women. Since Alpha chapter was established at the University School of Music, Ann Arbor, Michigan — more than 80 active and 40 alumnae chapters and many alumnae clubs have been formed.

Lambda chapter was established at the New England Conservatory in June 1915. Highlighting the activities of 1946-47 have been a program of American Music presented at an all-school Assembly in January and the chapter's Annual Spring Concert. Opening the Fall's events was an Open House Breakfast, and other social events included a Halloween Party for the dormitory students and a Fall Supper Dance for members and their escorts.

Reviving a custom of a decade ago, Lambda chapter and Kappa Gamma Psi joined in presenting a Christmas Hop. And both groups broadcasted a program of Christmas carols over WEEL from North Station.

A Valentine Party followed in the Spring. Closing Sigma Alpha Iota's activities were the traditional Senior Banquet and Senior Farewell Service.

Alpha Chapter of Kappa Gamma Psi Fraternity was founded at the New England Conservatory of Music on December 11, 1913. It grew into a national fraternity soon after with chapters in many of the leading educational institutions.

During the recent war years all members of Alpha Chapter saw service with the Armed Forces. Upon the return of several members the spirit of the fraternity was quickly regained and activities were resumed with the high standards that were in evidence before the war.

Phi Mu Alpha chapter, member of the oldest musical Fraternity in the country, Sinfonia, again experienced a very active banner year. With the many returned war veterans, Phi Mu Alpha recuperated quickly from a slump caused by the war. This past year the chapter was very successful with the many great things it attempted and carried out, such as The Founders Day Concert, the joint concerts in Jordan Hall, to mention a few of the many musical events which took place during the past year.

Phi Mu Alpha wishes to take this opportunity to extend its congratulations to the members of the graduating class, and to wish them well in their new endeavors.

Mu Phi Epsilon is a National Music Sorority in the professional field, having as its purpose the recognition of scholarship and musicianship, and the promotion of friendship within its sisterhood. This Sorority was founded as an Honor Society on November 13, 1903; Beta Chapter was established at the New England Conservatory of Music on December 13, 1903. At the 1946 Convention, the Sorority was officially changed from an Honor Sorority to a Professional Sorority.

Beta Chapter awards the Mu Phi Epsilon medal each year to the Freshman girl having the highest grades. Helen Orpen received this medal in 1946.

Zeta Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega is one of 68 chapters of this fraternity scattered throughout the universities and colleges of the country. First founded in 1885 at the School of Music of De Pauw University in Indiana, it was a musical fraternity, but was soon divorced from the original concept in order to include liberal art students. Today, Zeta is the only pure musical chapter.

Scholarship is one of its prime requirements. The active members, together with the well organized alumnae, aim to promote good fellowship among all, as well as to strengthen the bonds of the fraternity.

Activities for this year included receptions, parties and teas, in addition to the annual concert which is planned for Spring. The chapter is enthusiastically preparing for the national convention to take place at the Chateau Frontenac, Canada, in June.

It is important for a composer, especially in our day of modern music, to hear his music played and criticised before it reaches the public's ever-critical ear. With students this need is even greater. For greatest effect, the work must be done in a group which has the same main objective in mind and the common good of music at heart.

Such a group has now been organized here at N. E. C. It is a newly formed organization open to all students interested in Symphonic Composition and Popular arranging regardless of their major.

Actual performance and constructive criticism of the members' compositions and arrangements are the main objectives.

Thanks to the sincere support of the faculty, we are able to institute an N. E. C. composers and arrangers' night — held once a year. On this evening the outstanding musical works submitted by the club members will receive public performance in Jordan Hall.

During our weekly meetings we endeavor to procure guest speakers who have achieved outstanding success in the musical field.

The club was founded by Paul E. Bordeleau, who states it like this: After attending the Conservatory for a year I realized that something was missing — some kind of organization, whereby composition and arranging students could meet in a body and exchange ideas. So with the help of John "Lucky" Russell and a favorable answer from Dean Holmes, the COMPOSERS AND ARRANGERS CLUB was started, with our first meeting in October of 1946.

Mr. Bordeleau expressed the hope that the club will become a permanent part of Conservatory life.

This club is one of the youngest organizations in the school. Last year the Alumni Association kindly offered the club the use of the Alumni Room, and since then many good times have been had there. The purpose of the club is to give the commuters a place to get together and therefore to feel more at home.

The end of World War II saw the return of many veterans to school. These Veterans were determined to acclimate themselves to studying again and to obtain the knowledge they realized was so important to their future progress.

There were a great many with similar problems and it was this similarity and understanding of each other's problems that prompted a group of men to form a club known as the Veterans Club of the New England Conservatory of Music.

Out of this club grew understanding and cooperation which encouraged many and continues to do so.

This cooperation did not stop at just scholastic assistance but extended into the social activities. The outstanding proof of this cooperation was the fascinating and excellent minstrel show given last year.

However, we could not have progressed as we did if it had not been for the fine leadership of our Veteran Dean Mr. Holmes and our Veteran Instructor Mr. Harold Schwab.

Our organization has from the first been open to all veteran students; both men and women regardless of race, creed or color; and as long as the club remains in existence this rule shall be in effect.

Carr Organ Society was founded at the Conservatory in February 1939 by a group of organ students; the name of the society was suggested by Dr. Goodrich in honor of Samuel Carr, Esq., formerly president of the Board of Trustees.

The purpose is to increase students' knowledge of organ literature, by affording members a chance to perform in public, and to promote a friendly spirit among organ students.

Some of the activities in the past year have included trips to see some of the larger Boston organs and guest speakers. Also there was a roller-skating party, and a beach party.

During the year, aside from the rushing of new girls, parties, dinners and outings of various kinds are enjoyed.

The New England Conservatory Club, founded in 1920, had its origin in the desire to promote school spirit through a closer association and friendship of women students. Beginning as an organization to which all sororities belonged, it gradually evolved into a separate entity with its own membership, no longer drawn, necessarily, from among members of sororities.

This club has the rather unusual purpose of a double goal. It functions both as an educational and as a social organization. Each meeting consists of a lecture by our much admired pastor, Father Ryan, followed by refreshments and games or dancing.

During the year the Conservatory chapter is represented at federation meetings, charity affairs, retreats, and the members are invited to the major recreational activities of other Newman clubs.
